Transportation

The Elizabeth line is now open Monday-Saturday with service directly to the ExCeL London. It does not run on Sunday. Learn more.

London boasts one of the largest public transport networks in the world, with bus, road, and river systems spanning all 32 boroughs.

An easy way to explore the city and purchase bus, Tube, tram, DLR (Docklands Light Railway, London Overground, most TfL Rail, Emirates Air Line and Thames Clippers River Bus services is to visit <https://tfl.gov.uk/> to learn more about the Oyster Card. The Oyster card is a smart card that allows you to pay as you go and is contact free.

The Tube: The London Underground rail network has 11 Tube lines to offer. Fare to ride the Tube will depend on the time of day, how far you are going, and how you choose to pay. Regular Tube services run from 5:00 AM until midnight with more late-night services available on the weekend.

Buses: The famous double-decker buses of London are both a cheap and convenient way to get around the city while also sightseeing. All buses are cashless, so you will need either an Oyster card, Travelcard or another form of contactless payment. Bus fare is £1.55 and a day of bus-only travel will cost a maximum of £4.65. You are able to take unlimited bus or tram rides for free within one hour beginning first journey.

Taxi: Taxicabs are readily available all over London. The minimum fare is £3.20 at all times but can fluctuate based on time of day, location, traffic, and day of year.

Rideshare: Trips are available in London, U.K. through the Uber App. We remind you to please ensure that it is your driver before getting into the vehicle.
